Carrying Torn Bodies Away in Sheets Child Grasps Dead Mother Wounded Chinese Crawling Toward Safety

Carrying the broken and torn bodies of the dead out of the streets in sheets and blankets, as shown above, Shanghai's volunteers came to follow the death-riddled paths along the bombed city as the fiercest battle of the Chinese-Japanese conflict raged there. These helmeted rescue workers were photographed by the American Red Cross as they evacuated the zone.

Left dead among the bomb-wrought destruction of the Shanghai streets is this Chinese mother, lower right foreground, with her child clinging pitifully at her waist. Back of them Chinese civilians search the wreckage for wounded who can be saved.

The body of the soldier is being loaded into an ambulance at left. This "incident" precipitated already strained relations into the present hostilities raging in China.

When Bomb Hit U.S. Oil Tank During Raid In Battle Position on Roof

The dense, black smoke above, arising from an American-owned storage tank in the International Settlement at Shanghai, is evidence of some Chinese-Japanese aviation. It was struck during an air raid as the nations fought for control of the city. The flames from which the smoke rises were just behind the wharves, where both merchant and warships were docked.

Japanese soldiers on the roof of a Shanghai building watched this dense black smoke rise from a distant blazing section of the city as they were ready to turn their machine guns on the street at a second's notice.

Monument Incident—the Orient's Sarajevo

Just as the World War had its Sarajevo, the Orient had its Monument Road "incident" when a fusillade of Chinese bullets killed a car and killed a Japanese officer and a member of a visiting party. At right a Japanese soldier, holding a flashlight, examines one of the extraordinarily large bullet holes in the wall. The body of the officer is being loaded into an ambulance at left. one sort and another and even trying to stimulate their own industry by having one another that Social Credit is the way."

He declared that the "thing that seems to amuse many of our people more than all else is to hear the various groups of self-styled champions of the people's welfare proclaiming an earnest desire and determination to save the people from themselves. And to keep Canada a safe place for the financial tyranny of high interest rates, restricted credit issue and grandiose schemes were developed."

WHERE WERE THEY?

"Many are asking where these men have been keeping themselves up to the present. Have the United Chambers of Commerce, the United Trade, Peoples League and United Canada organizations been, during the last 10 years, during the time the present economic and social conditions were developing?" he asked.

"How many citizens of the province, during these last years, have ever heard of these various groups and organizations taking steps to reduce interest rates, give relief to over-burdened debtors and seeking placed in the hands of the representatives of the people to be exercised in terms of the people's need rather than for the profit of the financial institutions? Why were the people of Western Canada not told the story of 'sound banking' during the years when public and private debts were climbing to colossal figures and assets of our people were being charged into liabilities by ever-increasing taxation and excessive interest charges?"

"Why is it that until the people have elected a government that takes active steps to end these conditions, are these men and organizations ever heard of?"

"Why is it that the financial institutions are so anxious to broadcast the story of 'sound banking' and to keep up the government of the people's choice in carrying out the people's mandate?"

"What have these organizations and institutions to offer as an alternative to the mandate of the people? Only a continuation of conditions they have helped to bring about and under which the province is compelled to export annually more than $50,000,000 in interest to great deal of which is at interest rates higher than in any other part of the British Empire. And in addition we also pay with enhanced prices due to tariff restrictions over which the Dominion government has direct control."

CAMOUFLAGED CLIKES

Mr. Manning read a despatch stating that the British government had destroyed 45,400,000 bags of coffee to keep the prices up.

"Whenever the people make an earnest endeavor to free themselves from such unbearable conditions there is always a small minority ready to manifest themselves in various groups and cliques and under the guise of high and lofty motives endeavoring to prevent the carrying out of the will of the people."

"During the last few months, all the cabinet ministers and members of the government have been endeavoring to furnish out their communications with information and suggestions for the solution of a scheme such as would enable our province to enjoy in economic freedom the benefits of their scheme in association."

WILL BENEFIT ALL

"With the help and credit thus furnished, arrangements have been completed whereby, through the applications of the principles of Douglas dynamics, there will be granted dividends and benefits for all sections of society, including business, labor, and the financial institutions as well as the financial institutions. The people have been overcome and the government of credit policy has been implemented."

The minister said that certificates were purchased and used by cash on hand.

HORSES DIE SUDDENLY

Referring to Edmonton, His Worship stated that he was asking city officials for information to see how it would work out in Edmonton.

WANTS FIVE-DAY WEEK

"I believe we could put a forty-hour, five-day week into effect here with civic employees receiving the 1929 scale of wages for that five-day 40-hour week," he said.

"The civic officers could well maintain closed from Friday night to Monday morning, and I think that we should put back into effect the 1929 wage scale immediately. At any rate I am going to try and get the council to endorse the plan."

In this respect the mayor stated that as long as the Fortin scheme was put into effect and the city was forced to pay out over one million a year in excess interest charges to the banks, he thought that the civic employees who were responsible for the success of the civic utilities which provided the big profits from which this million dollar deficit should receive immediate consideration.

"I am anxious to see minimum wages on the 1929 scale put into effect here and the five-day, 40-hour week. I think the city should lead a lead in this respect in Edmonton in this respect and if it can be done I will make every effort to have it done," he said.

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—Espana of the Sino-Japanese and Spanish were resounded unanimously here as Spanish Premier Juan Negrin formally opened the 18th session of the League of Nations in the presence of delegates from 54 nations.

China formally appealed against Japanese aggression and invoked Articles X, XI and XVII of the League Covenant, through its chief delegate, Dr. Wellington Koo.

At the same time, a Spanish insurgent delegation led by the Duke of Alba protested against the League pledges to preserve members against aggression, threats of war, and steps taken in disputes between members.

CHINESE ASK STEPS

The Chinese government asked the League to take "appropriate and necessary measures" under the articles cited dealing with League pledges to preserve members against aggression, threats of war, and steps taken in disputes between members.

not so religiously sanctimonious as to believe that all references to politics on Sunday is sacrilegious.

"Where, when, and how the old dog hard politicians become to ultra-religious? Surely politics should not be so merged and vice versa as to have all reference to it on Sunday tabooed. We have rather more to say about economy than politics."

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, he told his listeners, had a review of the international political situation broadcast on Sunday by Professor H. L. Stewart of Princeton University.

"What about the talk of President Roosevelt, which has nothing to do with politics on Sundays?" he asked. "What about Sunday news broadcasts?"

For the People's League he had no answer. He turned it to the "People's League."

ARE IN LEAGUE

"It is purpose to keep the people in slavery," he declared. "The Liberals and the League are on the side of the financiers."

He urged a United Social Credit movement. The old parties, he declared, are afraid of an election.

"They waited until we said there would be an election. Now they are using all their ammunition. We hope the people will stay around to the face of all this bombardment."

Russia's Air Might Now Concentrated In 6000 Machines

British United Press
BERLIN, Sept. 13.—Russia now owns about 6,000 first-class airplanes, according to Colonel Rudolph von Klinker, who comments upon the excellent state of the U.S.S.R.'s air force and other services in the Berliner Tagblatt.

"Russia's air force could discharge about 1,500 tons of explosives over enemy territory in five flights," he declares. This amount is equivalent to the total of explosives discharged by fleets of Britain, France and Russia during the whole world war.

Re-Colonel von Klinker states that the present strength of the Red army is at least 1,500,000 men. In addition, there are 150,000 trained men who have done service and 75,000 border troops. The equipment consists of 2,000 light and 14,000 heavy machine guns, 1,000 anti-tank guns, 700 light and 1200 guns of heavy calibre, and between 6,000 and 10,000 tanks.

A large navy, mostly consisting of small craft-like submarines and high speed boats, but including two new 3,000-ton battleships, was also part of the Soviet defence programme.

Soviet Patrons Take Their Rides On Plane Wings

A revolutionary method of air freight transport is envisioned by Russian aviation leaders as a result of experiments in placing passengers in wing slots. Under the winging of a two-seated biplane, above, compartments were built to hold 18 passengers equipped with parachutes. The plane took off successfully and reached a speed of 180 miles an hour in flight. Note that the plane is equipped with ski runners for water flying.

One of the first fliers to join the search for the missing transpolar plane, took off from the icebreaker Saturday in his second search over the frozen wastes.

EROSION CURE MAY BE FOUND

ABERYSWYTH, Wales, Sept. 13.—Papers on grass conditions on Canadian plains were read at the first Grassland Congress here which was featured by the announcement of a probable solution for soil erosion.

A new species of grass of more lively growth, a new strain of white clover and perennial rye grass, all new developments, may be used to check the effects of erosion.

Abraham of the Soil Conservation Service of California declared: "It is the result of our visit to this Congress, we have found a grass and clover which will survive under conditions our soil erosion problem will be ended."

HOW TO MAKE FARM TENURE MORE SECURE

Federal Economist Warns
Peasantry Tendency
Must Be Checked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Education in land-use and farming in the Farm Tenure Aid program approved by Congress and the president, department of agriculture officials said.

Officials said the appropriation authorized in the bill—a maximum of $100,000 after three years—can hardly begin to purchase farms.

"Our real goal is to secure farm tenure, whether by tenants or owners," A. G. Black, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, said.

"Tenancy in itself is not to be deplored as much as the things which have gone wrong with it in the past," he said. "Insecurity of tenure makes for wasteful farming, over-cropping, excessive depletion of the soil, and other equipment, and erosion of the farm family itself."

"Despite everything the nation can do, we might as well make up our minds that we are going to have a considerable amount of tenancy in this country for many years to come," he said.

He listed four proposals which would make for better farming through over-cropping, excessive depletion of the soil, and other equipment, and erosion of the farm family itself.

Working out of greatly improved tenancy laws, which would particularly through leases which encourage a kind of partnership.

Encouragement to farm mortgage operators, present and prospective, through better security and fair interest rates.

Encouragement of plans for various payments, such as crop payments which would tend to diffuse the risk of crop failure, and settling price levels between buyer and seller.

A continuous program of education to discourage idleness, idleness, excessive land valuation and speculation.

REWARD FOR GOOD WORKS
Improved relationships between tenants and landlords should promote compensation for the tenant for unexcelled improvements, set up minimum requirements with respect to soil management and reforestation rather than penalize good stewardship of the land, Black said.

Long-time and recent trends in the direction of lower farm output, more abundant ownership, more tenants and a decreasing number of farms, Black said.

During the past 15 years—the period for which the census is available—the proportion of tenanted farms has increased from 18.9 per cent in 1920, one out of every four farms tenanted, to 20.9 per cent in 1930, one out of every four farms tenanted.

Each year 40,000 farm-owners lose title in their own land.

"Even these figures," Black said, "do not present the true picture of the situation. The number of operating owners is far less than the figures indicate. In some states the number of operating farmers is less than 100,000."

Trawler Saves Yachtsmen Just In Nick Of Time

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Two London yachtsmen were rescued yesterday from their sinking 11-ton yacht Haard in the Irish sea by a trawler and landed at Milford Haven, with the second intention of thrills to add to their adventures during August.

Sydney Miller and Brinley Byre, the yachtsmen, were adrift for 12 days with two companions in the same yacht last month far out in St. George's channel.

They were near starvation when they attracted attention of two boats in a rowing boat, sailing on a saucer. Sails torn and rudder disabled, the yacht was swept back and forward across the channel several times.

The yacht was repaired and Evans said yesterday, the pair resumed their voyage Aug. 26, heading for Cork, Irish Free State. Their adventures began Sept. 8 with a gale and high seas during which a steamship missed them, "by inches."

Two abducts broke, the mast snapped in a gale and was poured into the Haard. With a lower mast a distress signal they attracted the trawler, Kuroki, which skillfully came alongside enabling them to leap aboard.

Ten minutes after the rescue the Haard sank.

STUDENT ENDS LIFE IN OWN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Tied to an electric plug was a cord reading "Pull out this plug before turning on the transformer warned. "Danger, high voltage."

His father said young Braucher had become discouraged over inability to find work.

NEWLY-CROWNED "MISS AMERICA" HAS VANISHED

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 13.—Ten hours after being crowned "Miss America" 17-year-old Betty Cooper of Hackensack, N.J., disappeared from Atlantic City Sunday.

Cooper, who was crowned in a ceremony of 100 officials, theatrical promoters and seaward cameras.

Nobody knew "for sure" where she'd gone, but the manager of an amusement park would like to have known, because above his gilded movie palace was a big electric sign. "Come see Miss America, 1937," she, together with two runners up in the national beauty pageant, "Miss Texas" and "Miss North Carolina," had a five-day engagement to appear on the pier's stage.

Portugal's severance of relations with Czechoslovakia has created a sensation in Europe. Portugal, a distant nation, aligned with Germany in the Spanish civil war crisis, recalled its minister to Czechoslovakia when that nation refused permission of its largest armament factory to fill a Portuguese order for guns. The break has been the subject of bitter political attack in German Nazi circles as well as an ally of France and the Soviet Union. Portugal, favoring the Franco cause, has been a base for shipments to General Francisco Franco's "Nationalist" army. In Portugal, President Marshal Antonio Carlos Moore shares rule with the Franco-inclined premier, Dr. Antonio Salazar.

This And That

MIKE RODDEN, of the Toronto Globe and Mail, hands Western Canada a Mike Rodden's look on the back in his column when he declares: "Legions in Western Canada are far in advance of those in the east in some matters, and have adopted some worthwhile rules." Mike refers particularly to increasing the interference area to 10 yards ahead of the line of scrimmage and allowing forward passes to be thrown from anywhere back of the line of scrimmage.

Discussing the Dominion playoff possibilities, Rodden sees no hope of the western Canada teams competing for the Canadian championship against the west's titans if the westerners insist on using their U.S. imports and their own rules.

No one out here is likely to worry very much about whether or not the east cares to play the Dominion crown. The west insists on playing the game the same time that the east does. The east, in town, which means it is nothing but a financial pain in the neck for the west. It seems the western teams have to hang around a month after football is finished on the prairies and attempt to keep in shape in case you go to their knees.

In addition, there is hardly any question of what the result of such a Christmas Eve game would be. If the westerners—either Regina, Winnipeg or Calgary—used their mighty U.S. imports the east would get a trouncing. If they didn't use them, then the west would get beaten, so why even talk about a playoff?

A national title sounds good and undoubtedly appeals to a certain number of fans, but actually it is not the cost involved under the present circumstances. Conditions are so different in the east and west that there is little hope of them ever getting together again on football. For years the west has had to comply with conditions drafted to suit the east in grid affairs and pay through the nose. Now the west has been broken away and decided to play football to suit itself—and there seems to be absolutely nothing to be gained by even thinking of a national game. Football gets along splendidly in the U.S. without such a title game.

Golf Tid-Bit Today

EDMONTON golf fans get their last tid-bit of outstanding golf for 1937 this afternoon, when Sandy McNeill, present Dominion amateur champion, plays in a foursome at Mayfair with "Whit" Matthews, Bobby Proctor and Jim Mountfield. Henry Martell, originally scheduled to play the foursome, is unable to get away from his work and Mountfield is taking his place.

The foursome will tee-off at 3:00 p.m., which is the latest hour that will permit 16 holes to be played before darkness sets in. Somerville's exhibition game here was arranged by W. H. Stevens, Edmonton manager of the London Life. It was a thoughtful gesture that city fans deeply appreciate. Somerville arrived in the city on Sunday.

Sniping At Random

PITY Sandy Hurd, the immortal Scotch golfer. Custom in Scotland orders that a golfer who makes a hole in one must treat his friends at the club house. Sandy has made 18 holes in one and he estimates that the resulting treats have cost him no less than $100.

Jim Weaver, the towering six-foot-six-incher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, holds the major league record for quick changes. He broke into the majors via Newark of the International. This club sent him to the St. Louis Browns on transfer. The Browns didn't like him and released him to remain in Philadelphia. Jim packed his bag and picked Newark to find out where he was to reside. "Say right where you are," Newark informed him. "We've just sold you to the Chicago Cubs and they will be checking in to Philadelphia tonight."

That made Weaver a member of three teams in one afternoon.

Speaking of the Cubs—they always have two private rooms on reserve in a hospital near their home field. It proved a right smart idea this season.

Country Club Golf Aces Retain Eaton Rose Bowl

BIG Jam Mountfield and smooth-stroking Doug Kilburn made good their third consecutive defence of the T. Eaton company's challenge golf trophy on Sunday at the Country Club when they scored a victory over Tom Tommy Vickers and Bobbie MacNeill of the Municipal.

Mountfield had the hottest round of them all, carding an approximate par 72, the competitors shooting out the remainder of the match after the match was settled on the 15th green. Kilburn was the next best with a 75, while Vickers had approximately 76.

Three pick-ups made it possible to get an approximate total for Kilburn, although his game was crisp and bright in a number of spots.

The defending pair from the Country Club started off by winning the first hole, but were overtaken by Kilburn. They took the second hole with par, but the challengers needed five. They halved the third at Vickers and Mountfield needed three, while Kilburn and MacNeill needed three. Kilburn was the fourth with a birdie two, but Mountfield got it back right away by taking the fifth with a birdie. They halved the sixth at seven and eighth and then Kilburn took the ninth with a birdie. Two that returned the defender led three to three. They halved the 12th in the 14th hole, but then Kilburn took the 15th hole with a birdie. Vickers took the 16th hole with a birdie and MacNeill halved the 17th hole. The match was then tied at three to three, but the defender needed four, but the defender needed four.

With their lead cut to two, the Mountfield and Kilburn were forced to open down at 18. Jam took the 19th hole with a birdie, but then Kilburn took the 20th hole with a birdie. Vickers took the 21st hole with a birdie and MacNeill halved the 22nd hole. The match was then tied at three to three, but the defender needed four, but the defender needed four.

There are about 300 wood ties to the mile on a railroad.

5,000 Calgarians See Winnipeg Run Bronk Herd Ragged—Cow City Line Falls To Hold

CALGARY, Sept. 13.—Winnipeg's Blue Bombers Saturday marked up their best points of the year in the Western Canada Inter-Provincial Rugby Union.

Playing before a crowd of more than 5,000 under a hot sun here Saturday, the 1935 Dominion champions overcame their early ilters to capitalize on the running of Winnipeg's Fritz Hanson and defeat Calgary Bronks 11-0.

Hanson, who could just as easily have been the "man" of the game because of two fumbles in the opening minutes, took the three-point lead in the 10th minute by kicking a 35-yard field goal. He then kicked a 35-yard field goal in the 15th minute to lead the Bombers to a 6-0 lead.

The game opened with the diminutive blond dropping Calgary's kickoff. It was recovered by Herb Snowden and when Calgary failed to advance the yardsticks from the Winnipeg 15-yard line, the big blue team was given possession and kicked out of danger.

Calgary made one first down, but then the Bombers took the field and scored on a two-point play by Hanson. Hanson's kick was good and the Bombers led 6-0.

A forward pass from Fritz Hanson to Stevenson, gaining 20 yards, sent the Bombers into the end zone. Hanson's kick was good and the Bombers led 9-0.
